A proud Hideout resident, Tanya is passionate about Hideout being a place where residents, businesses, and nature thrive together. Her leadership style is collaborative and transparent. She believes in listening first, acting with integrity, and building consensus around smart solutions.

She's committed to: Transparent, Two-Way Communication, ensuring residents are informed and heard; Smart, Sustainable Growth, structuring long-term growth that protects and enhances property values, open spaces, and the town's financial health; Strong Local Governance, understanding and enforcing the town's rights & powers to serve our community effectively; Infrastructure & Safety for the Future, investing in what matters – roads, public spaces, and safety measures supporting lasting growth.

Tanya is a seasoned corporate and real estate attorney with over 25 years of experience advising and guiding businesses through complex legal and strategic challenges. She has led legal strategy, governance matters, and compliance across complex business environments – bringing clarity, accountability, and foresight to every decision. Her legal expertise spans development, land use, joint venture, contract negotiation, and public and private partnerships. She understands how to balance long-term planning with the immediate needs of residents. She is running to ensure Hideout thrives – protecting what we love while planning for what's next.
